SENIOR A PLAY

A RECORD group representing the Senior A dramatic talent turned out this semester for the second year from the same stage. The cast was chosen by Mr. J. Edmund Spence, and the presentation of "Lilies of the Field" was a huge success. Through the efforts of Mr. Spence, the show was like indeed one of the best class plays ever presented in this high school.

The story of "Lilies of the Field" concerns the two twin girls whose secret presents from their god-father in Germany of pink exude a secret charm to visitors to London. When the twin mother comes to England better late than never, she decides that the secret will be the new wife's best attraction. A gentleman, an antiquarian, who is invited to lunch. By a careless word the girl's father gives the secret away to one of the twins who, never sailing under false colors, tells the other. They plan their course of the interpretation. If she can't make white lilies, they will always be "Twins."

Dressing in fashioned dresses and sporting a Jewish girl's air, a resolute attitude, one fortitude, quite everywhere in the play, it is as if it were London. Unknown to her, however, is it has seen her as she really is, and she leads her far on a hectic month of surprising London with trailing skirts, poke bonnets, and long "false" eyelids. To this she replies that she loves him and believes that she is going on with the farce or lose him. The play comes to a happy and amusing close when she finally throws aside her "make-believe" and becomes her real self.

This role of Elizabeth, the erring twin, was given a beautiful interpretation by Josephine Francis, and the part of the other twin, very modern, adorable Katherine, was played by Dorothy Frank. Mrs. Rock Weller, the twin's grandmother, was played admirably by Doris Smith, and Harry Hosmer took the part of the antiquarian. Warren Cornwell and Elsie Agnew played Fred A. C. and his wife, parents of the twins. The part of a silly, dapper little man of fashion who changed habits and ideas to please Kitty was taken by L. G. R. Lee. Other characters were played by Marian Fisher, Lucille Cathcart, Jewell Elliot, and Burt Anderson.

CLASS HISTORY

NOT long ago the class of 1930 was a group of inexperienced but determined "peagreens." The upper classmen were lined up along the sidewalk to meet and greet them. Having survived this very demonstrative welcome, they embarked upon a highly successful high school career. Now they are about to leave, some to enter the various colleges and universities as underclassmen, others to enter the School of Experience and Hard Knocks as "peagreens."

Just to start off in the right direction, the whole sophomore class merged to form a football team that won the interclass championship in the spring of 1927.

Things ran smoothly for a year and a half, during which the class may have seemed inactive to some observers; it was in fact preparing for the events that were to follow. In the spring of 1929 this apparently dormant class awoke and settled down to work.

The sweater committee, headed by Wade Ambrose and consisting of Josephine Morehouse and Bill Tinker, submitted many satisfactory sweaters to the class as a whole for approval. The sweater chosen was a solid blue slip-over with white felt numerals. The present graduating class is the first in many years to have the slip-over type of sweater.

The ring committee, headed by Ed Thompson and consisting of Eleanor Agnew and Warren L. Patton, submitted twelve rings to the class for approval, and a gold ring with a silver SD on a blue and white background was selected.

It is customary for the Senior A's to give a play each semester, but the Senior B's again showed their originality when they sponsored the play "Icebound" as a method of raising money for the class activities.

As a final memento of their football prowess, the whole Senior class combined to win again the interclass football championship.

At the end of the semester, the class sponsored a School Spirit Week. In the assembly for that week, Lawrence Pritchard, as president of the Senior B's, presented an eighteen-inch cup to the school, to be awarded at the end of each semester to the class showing the best school spirit.

Now the class prepares to leave this, the scene of their many triumphs and happy moments. May they always be as original and successful in later life

CLASS SONG

We have pyramids of memory
Of the high school we shall ne'er forget
Good times and friends dear
Victories we've won here
Nineteen Thirty leaves you with regret
But our thoughts will linger with you yet.

Hear our song of goodbye
Though we leave with a sigh
We'll remember to be true
To the dear old White and Blue
Dear High School
So we pass on our way
From our Castle of Gray
And sing our song of goodbye
To San Diego High.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

THE Gray Castle Varsity Football squad of 1929 has come through the season with second place in the Coast League. The lettermen, Ashley Bown, Gerard Buchard, Bus Currier, Al DeBus, Joe Gentillalli, Don Giddings, King Hall, Dick Martin, Al Moore, Jack Patterson, Felix Pangeline, Eugene Price, Ed Reed (Capt.), Ray Russell, Alonzo Rodriguez, Manuel Riverall, Tom Salisbury, Gene Schaeffer, Mercedes Upson, I. P. Thompson, Ivor Webber, and Will Wilson, led Wilson under the direction of Coach Hobbs Adams, assisted by Mike Morrow, Captain Ed Reed, Manager Lewis Wisler, and Trainer Bob Houston have done splendid work, and our school is proud to have such a fine group of "cavemen."

The first game of the season started the ball rolling when San Diego won a victory of 32 to 0 from Glendale in the Gray Castle stadium. The next week the San Diego team journeyed to Alhambra where the score was 39 to 14 in the former's favor. But victories cannot last forever. San Diego suffered its first and only defeat at the hands of the Dog Beach Jackrabbits, the score being 27 to 13. Although the result of the game was a loss for San Diego, the sportsmanlike spirit of our cavemen and the student body in general served only to stimulate our enthusiasm.

By the time the Pasadena game was scheduled everyone was full of pep and ready to back up their own team. The game was a real football game, grandly staged by many thrills, and the spectators certainly got their money's worth. There was no score for the first quarter when the final score was made out. The score was then 6 to 0 Pasadena's favor. However, a game is never finished until the final gun shot, and in the last four minutes our cavemen made two touchdowns, thus making the final score, San Diego 13, Pasadena 6. The effect of the spectacular plays on the grand stand can best be described by Will Rogers' definition of football, "A game which makes sane people act like raving maniacs." The Santa Ana game was equally thrilling, a touchdown being made in the last quarter by the cavemen. The final result was a score of 6 to 0 in favor of San Diego. The game completed a successful football season.

The result of the two Non-League games was as follows:

San Diego 27	Army and Navy Academy 0
San Diego 21	Bakersfield Jr. College 0

Each boy on the football team played his part in the games, and cooperation among them resulted in the good scores made. The high scorers of this year's cavemen are:

Warburton	42 points for League games 60 points for Non-League games
Reed (Capt.)	24 points for League games. 48 points for Non-League games
Salisbury	13 points for League games

Everyone of the boys on the team outdid himself to make this season's football a success and the team, the captain, the coaches, the manager, and the trainer all deserve the highest praise.

CLASS B FOOTBALL

THIS year's Class B football team, in spite of being the smallest in the history of light-weight football here at the Hilltop, successfully defended the Coast League Championship won in 1928. In two additional post-season games with El Monte and Whittier, they annexed the Southern California Championship. Coach Glenn Broderick successfully coached his fifth Class B team this year and tutored his charges through an undefeated season, the San Diego team scoring 190 points and their opponents 38. A great deal of credit is due Coach Broderick and the members of the team for their hard work and splendid sportsmanship. Through its fine playing it has brought a good deal of honor to the San Diego High School.

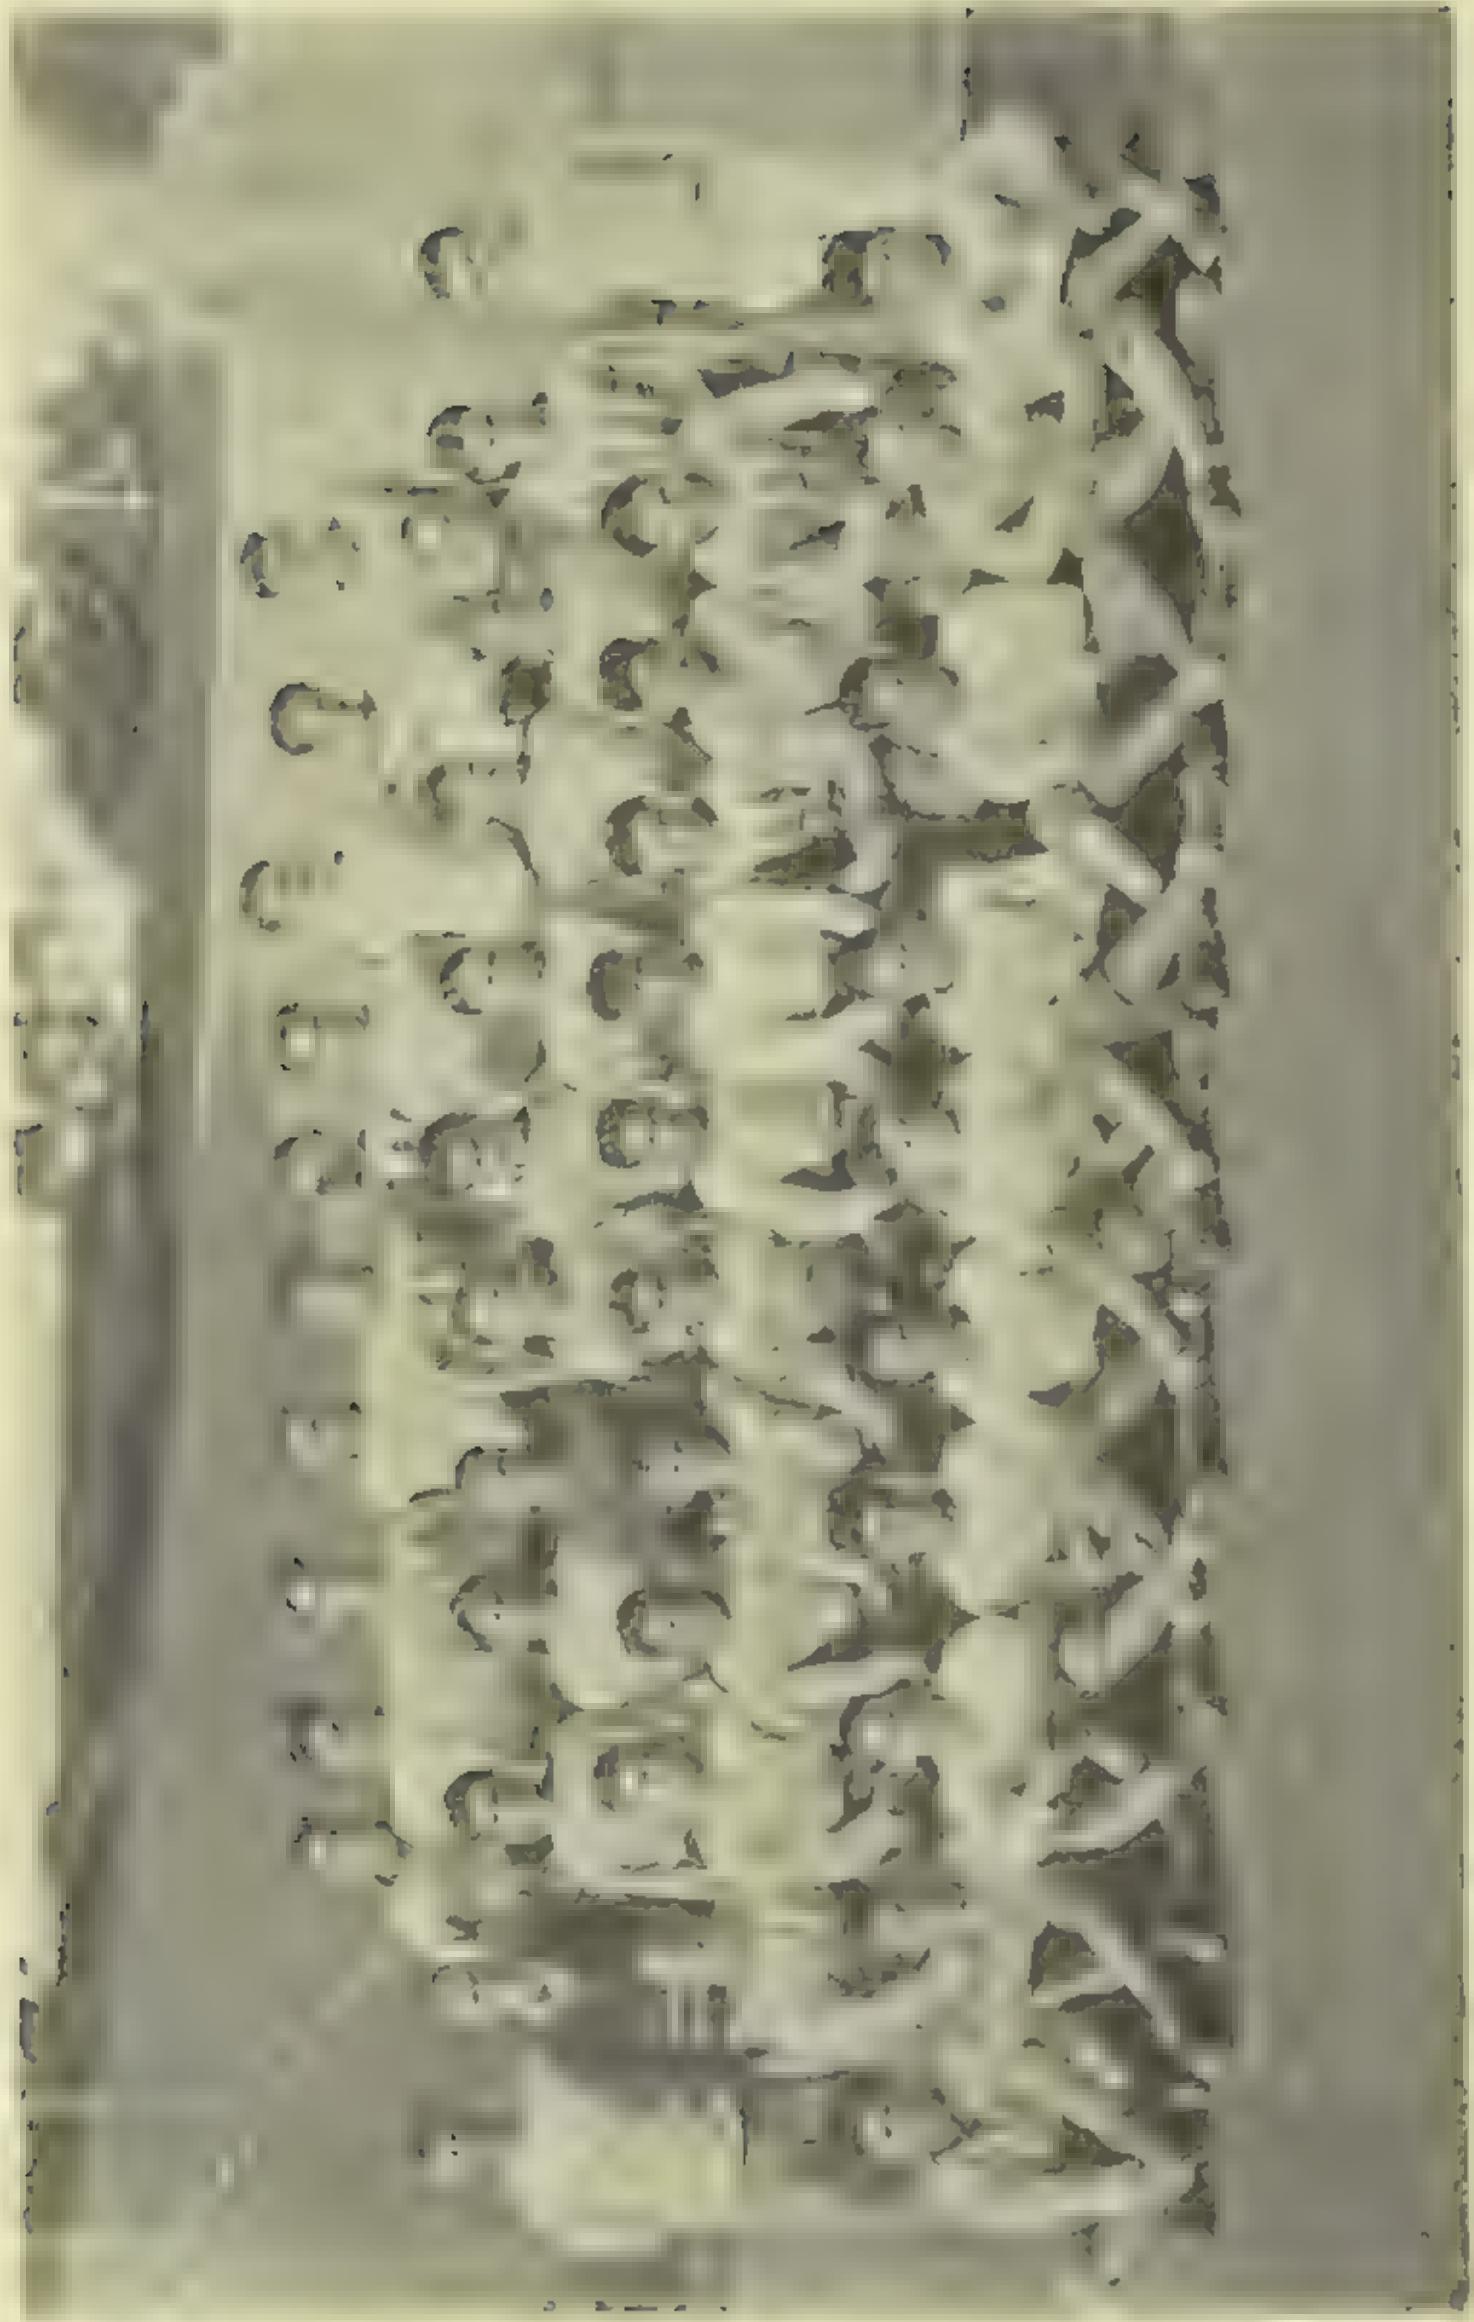

The only lettermen back from the 1928 team were Captain Curtis May, Jack Wallace and Harry Robertson. Those who will receive letters this semester are Jack Dawson, Ray Antrim, Tony Salmon and Lawrence Jones, ends; Bill Graham, Frank Favro, Wesley Holtzinger and John Bassett, tackles; Captain Curtis May, Ray Holt, Jack Wallace, and Arthur Riveroll, guards, Art Jacobs and Rex Ball, centers; Gene Miller and Fred Brebner, quarterbacks; Morris Schreibman, Fred Gentles and Harry Robertson, fullbacks, Alfred Obavashi, George Wadham, Harold Savage and James Trompas, halfbacks.

Scores of the games were:

San Diego	20	La Jolla Varsity	6
San Diego	13	Alhambra	0
San Diego	19	Glendale	6
San Diego	20	Long Beach	13
San Diego	26	Pasadena	0

The young performers were having a debate, and when they had all agreed that England was just about as bad as it could be, a grim-faced man arose.

"What you seem to want, friends, is a place where everyone has got to be good by law."

Thus agreed the reformers. "Where smoking is not allowed and such a thing as drink is unknown. Where no one need worry about food and clothes. Where everyone has to go to church and everyone keeps regular hours."

"Oh, to find such a place," said a soulful fellow.

"I only found," replied the grim man, "I've just come out from doing twelve months . . ."

"Well, mother," continued the child, "you call me your little lad."

"Yes, but you are mamma's little lad."

"I am not," continued Michael, "I suppose I must be my stepfather's little stepladder."

A woman told the local faith healer that her husband was very ill. He replied,

"Oh no, dear lady, there is no such thing as illness. Your husband only thinks he is ill."

A week later he met her again.

"Well, how is your husband today?" he asked.

"He thinks he is dead, sir," was the reply.

An old farmer and his wife visited the zoo. When they halted before the hippopotamus cage he remarked, admiringly, "Darned curious fish, ain't it, ma?"

So the argument began. It progressed to a point of such violence that the old lady began belaboring the husband with her umbrella. The old man dodged and ran, with his wife in pursuit.

The trainer had just opened the door of the lion's cage, and the farmer popped in. He crowded in behind the largest lion and peered over its shoulder fearfully at his wife, who, on the other side of the bars, shook her umbrella furiously.

"Coward!" she shouted. "Coward!"
